 All School Districts must plan for at least 175 student days. If schools are not open for 175 days, the school year must be extended to allow for "make-up" days. The maximum number of "make-up" days is five extra days. In this scenario, school closures may extend the last student day up to June 18th. It's important to note that because BSD's calendar already plans for 177 school days, we will not need to extend the year unless we close schools more than twice.  Teachers will work two additional days beyond the last student day, regardless of when that occurs.
 ANY days that students attend school, paras are to work the full day. Paras work three inservice days which are identified in the Important Notes section.
