Summary

Burlington School District has updated our District Attendance Procedures to be aligned with our attendance policy and VT State Statutes. The biggest change, implemented in the 23/24 school year, involves clarification around excused and unexcused absences and how we handle truancy (students missing five or more days of school in one school year).

Attendance Procedures

In all schools, teachers will take attendance for every student daily. There will be no default blank value accepted for attendance. Staff members taking attendance will use one of the codes in the table below for all students. Attendance must be updated and corrected as needed in PowerSchool for the entire week before Monday of the following week.

Attendance Taking Tools

In PreK, teachers will take attendance for all students in PowerTeacher, no later than 10 am. Partner PreK programs will use a spreadsheet system to take care of attendance.

In Grades K-5, teachers will take attendance for all students in PowerTeacher no later than 20 minutes after the start of the school day. Administrative assistants will verify that this is completed no later than 45 minutes after the start of the school day. If attendance is not complete for all students, administrative assistants will follow up with teachers to ensure it is completed.

In Grades 6-8, teachers will take attendance for all students in Schoology no later than 10 minutes after the start of the school day. Administrative assistants will verify that it is completed no later than one hour after the start of the school day. For subsequent classes, attendance must be taken prior to the end of each class. If attendance is not complete for all students, administrative assistants will follow up with teachers to ensure it is completed.

For grades K-8, if a student is absent and we have no communication from the family, the school will make contact through a phone call to the family that day.

In Grades 9-12, teachers are expected to get attendance into Schoology or Powerteacher by the conclusion of each class meeting, each day. The administrative assistant responsible for attendance at each building will verify that attendance has been taken for all students daily. Student attendance is converted to daily attendance in PowerSchool by the BHS Attendance staff person. It is essential that teachers keep accurate and updated attendance records.

If a Grade 9-12 student is marked as "Absent Unexcused (AU)" for one or more classes (this includes advisory), an automatically generated phone call (robocall) will go to their family at 3:30 pm. The call says something to this effect: "You are receiving this call because you have at least one student who has missed at least one class today."

Impact on Afterschool Participation

In all cases where the attendance code entered is SNE, EdU, EdA, or AE, the student will be allowed to participate in all and any Afterschool activities, including athletic practices and events, school dances, and field trips.

Attendance Comments for Health-related Absences

In the case of anything health or medical-related, even a routine appointment, "Health-related absence" should be entered. PowerSchool will not be used to document any specific health or medical information. Health and medical information is confidential and goes to the school nurse to be documented in the electronic health system and shared with appropriate parties. School nurses will maintain information on health-related absences in a standard format provided by the Lead Nurse, including COVID-related absences. All comments must include the author's initials and date for future reference, e.g., "Health-related absence JD 11.4.22".

Planned Absences

For students with a planned absence of three to nine days, families submit this form, alerting us to these planned absences. They will be marked as AE.

For students with a planned absence of 10 or more days, the family must complete the following form. These students will be unenrolled and can re-enroll upon their return. Families should pre-register their student(s) at least two weeks prior to the desired return to school.

For students who have 10 or more consecutive unexcused absences and who have not yet enrolled or are not enrolling elsewhere, we mark them as AU, with comments that explain what we know about why that student is absent.

Absences Explained for Families

Excused Absences

Parental communication alone does not excuse absences; instead, we use the guidance from the AOE regarding when an absence is considered excusable. From the AOE Website: An absence is considered excusable when it is the result of:

- Personal illness
- Appointments with health professionals that cannot be made outside of the regular school day
- Observance of recognized religious holidays when the observance is required during a regular school day
- Emergency family situations, such as a death in the family

- Planned absences for personal or educational purposes that have been approved
- Absences due to suspension or expulsion

All other absences will be marked as Absence Unexcused. This includes absences such as those that occur when a student needs more sleep, family is in town for a visit, the student is attending a non-AOE approved alternative programming, there is an event that the family wishes to attend with the student, participating in programs such as Crow's Path, Teresa Davis Art Studios, etc. (See more on this below in the FAQ section.)

Truancy

In terms of truancy, we use a restorative approach focused on understanding why a student has been absent, the impacts on their schooling, and how the school can work with the family to have improved engagement with school. A truancy notification letter will be sent to any student who has five or more absences from school, whether they are excused (such as illness) or unexcused. All families will receive the truancy letter regardless of the reason for the absences. Missing multiple days of school can impact a student's academic progress, including meeting State Standards and/or their IEP goals. In circumstances where a student attends outside programming one day per week, this constitutes them missing 20% of the year's curriculum, and families should be aware that such absences can impact learning.

Planned Absences

In cases of planned absences, families must submit a Planned Absence Request Form alerting us to planned absences of three to nine days. If a planned absence will extend beyond nine consecutive days, a 10+ Days Planned Absence Request Form must be filled out by the family and signed by the principal and teachers. Unless a planned absence of three to nine days falls under one of the six types of excusable absences listed above or is otherwise approved by the Superintendent, it will be considered an unexcused absence.

Signing Out of School

Students who have parental permission to leave during the school day must be dismissed by the administrative assistant in the main office and released to the pre-approved adult unless the school has permission to allow the student to leave school on their own.

If a student needs to leave school early for an appointment or other reason, they or their parent/guardian must sign them out in the school office, unless the school has permission to allow the student to leave school on their own. This sign out process must include the name of the student, time of departure, time (or day) expected back at school, and the name of the parent/guardian who signed them out. Only those persons listed in Powerschool as "School Pick-up" may sign a student out from school.

Health-related Absences

General Health-related absences are tracked in attendance records in PowerSchool. If a parent indicates on the phone that the student is "out sick," there is no need to let the nurse know, and "health-related absence" should be noted in attendance comments. If a parent indicates on the phone that the student is out for any type of medical appointment, "health appointment" should be noted in attendance comments.

If a parent shares information about a more serious health-related event (for example, having gone to the ER last night, broken limb) or a reportable communicable disease, such as COVID, measles, or whooping cough, please let the nurse know. The nurse will then document this conversation and the health-related details between the school and the parent in SNAP in the student's health record.

Longer Term Health Absences

Homebound and hospitalized students will work with their schools to come up with accommodations as needed. All health-related absences shall include accommodations around both homework assignments and making up school work, or arranging alternative approaches for completing coursework. Students and families will connect with teachers and/or school counselors to develop an amenable plan for this.

Truancy Procedures and Truancy Letter

In the majority of our schools, after five, 10, or 15 cumulative days, schools will send a restorative re-engagement letter (Truancy Letter) and make another phone call to the student's family. BSD's attendance clerk will work with schools to generate attendance letters. The clerk will run the truancy report weekly and let schools know that, within three days, the letters will go out. It is the responsibility of the school to run the report and to let the clerk know if there are letters that should not be sent; these reasons should be exceedingly rare.

After 15 days, where possible, there should be a home visit to establish/re-establish a relationship with the student and their family to understand barriers to attending school.

New in the 25/26 school year, a few schools have developed attendance teams that meet regularly to review student attendance using each school's Attendance Dashboard and create individualized plans for improving the attendance of individual students. In some cases these plans will include the sending home of a restorative re-engagement letter (Truancy Letter), but in most cases will involve communication directly with these students and their families from the classroom teacher, school counselor, or other school staff. This new approach is grounded in the researched best practices of Attendance Works.

Filing for Truancy

School attendance is not a priority for the courts. If school personnel feel strongly that a court intervention would make a difference for a student's health and/or well-being, they should work with their school administrator to write a clear and specific rationale for referral to the State's Attorney. Please also contact the Director of Engagement with any questions about the referral request process.

Mandated Reporting

All BSD staff are mandated reporters. If at any point staff experience a reasonable suspicion of neglect, they must immediately follow mandated reporter protocols. Educational neglect can only be filed for students 12 and under. For students over 12, if there are no other reportable concerns other than absences, DCF will not accept the report of educational neglect.

Questions and Answers for Families Regarding Changes

Q: What if a student regularly attends an alternative program determined by their family instead of going to school?

A: If a parent chooses to keep their child out of school to attend a part-time program (like Crow’s Path, Davis Studios, etc.), the family should let the school know in writing, and their child will be marked EDU (Alternate Education Program – Unapproved). As BSD cannot approve enrollment in programs unless they are taught by educators licensed by the Vermont Agency of Education, this attendance code will show up as an unexcused absence. Participation in these programs will continue to require students to make up missed work where appropriate; however, being absent for this reason will not prevent students from participating in any activities during or after school. Additionally, though families will still receive letters notifying them of their student’s accumulated absences, these absences will not be factored into conversations regarding truancy with the legal system. Missing a day of school every week may impact a student’s academic progress, including meeting State Standards and/or their IEP goals.

Q: What should I do if a child is sick for more than three consecutive days or has 10 or more health-related absences?

A: The administrative assistant or principal should connect with the school nurse and consider asking the parent for confirmation of illnesses from the child’s primary care provider (doctor).

Q: Can absences be excused?

A: Schools can excuse absences when a student is absent from school for religious, health, or emergency reasons. Excused absences are a legal part of the student’s record; a student who does not attend school must be marked absent, even if the absence is excused.

Q: Do I have to contact the school if my student will not be coming to school, will be late, or needs to leave early?

A: Yes, please call the school on the day of any unplanned absence and in advance of any planned absences. Families must provide a reason for absences. For late arrivals and those needing to leave school early, students who arrive after the start of the school day must check into the main office. If your child is going to be late or absent, please call the school to let us know. Students must remain on school grounds during school hours.

Q: Does your student want to miss school and you are not sure why?

A: Talk with them about what is happening in school. Reach out to your student’s teacher or school counselor so that together you can figure out what it is the student is struggling with and whether it’s for academic, social-emotional, or health-related reasons.

Q: Are there other ways schools can help families with student attendance?

A: Yes. We can:

- Set up a "contract" with your student with goals for attendance and rewards and consequences.
- Set up a time to talk with a teacher, school counselor, or school administrator about attendance and any concerns.
- Look at any potential counseling services or mentoring for your student.
- Consider after-school or extra-curricular programs to help keep your student interested in school.
- Look at the class schedule and see if a change could help.

- Share other resources for families. Let your school know what your family and student need (housing, healthcare, school supplies, clothes, toiletries); we are here to help your student be comfortable coming to school and being successful!

Q: Does your student want to miss school because of schoolwork?

A: Meet with the teacher or counselor and ask about the student's classwork. Ask about possible tutoring or homework help after school.

Questions and Answers for Staff Regarding Changes

Q: What should I type in the Attendance Comment for Health-Related Absences?

A: If a student is going to be absent due to a medical condition, write "Health-related Absence" in the PowerSchool attendance comment. If a student is going to be absent due to a medical appointment, write "Health appointment" in the PowerSchool attendance comment. Do not write anything specific about the student's health condition or include any medical information in the comment. This information is highly confidential. If an administrative assistant, teacher, or other staff person receives health or medical information about a student, it is the responsibility of that person to inform the parent that they will share that information only with the nurse, and then share it with the nurse via email. It should not be put in PowerSchool or communicated to any other people. Nurses will document any pertinent health-related information shared between family and school in the student's SNAP health record. This keeps private medical information intact.

Q: What should I do if a parent of a child in my classroom tells me their child is sick?

A: Any person who is not the administrative assistant or school nurse who receives this information should inform the parent that they will share it with the school nurse; they then forward that information via email to the school nurse.
